Forrest Solutions office space gets a bright, new personality

Aragon Construction completed a 17,684 s/f interior commercial space for Forrest Solutions Group.

The staffing and onsite outsourcing firm will occupy the entire ninth floor of 19 West 44th Street.

In partnership with the Spector Group, who served as the architects on the project, Aragon delivered a clean, modern space that compliments the re-branded Forrest Solutions.

Utilizing a color palette of blue, orange and white that mirrors their logo, the new space expertly showcases this next chapter for the firm. "The design reflects Forrest Solutions' newly launched brand and the innovative experience it offers for staffing and outsourcing buyers," said Marc B. Spector AIA, principal of the Spector Group.

The firm's creativity was further showcased with inventive names for various locations in the office – such as "Imaginarium" for the boardroom and "Fish Bowl" for the small conference room – which helped infuse their personality into the design. The space contains 15 offices, including two hotelling offices and two general work areas known as Kumbaya Rooms.

Aragon Construction completed the office space for Forrest Solutions Group in partnership with the Spector Group.

The property's high ceilings were exposed and plastered with a special finish to convey the desired industrial look. False columns and beams were included to neatly enclose all wiring, and Custom large white floor tiles added a brilliant finish to the space. All offices feature floor to ceiling glass fronts, further accentuating the open floor plan.

"Aragon worked hard to deliver a project that was both creative and functional to mirror the needs of a firm like Forrest Solutions" said Alex Getelman, founder and president of Aragon Construction.

"We pride ourselves on our ability to complete innovative, high quality projects on schedule and are pleased to have continued that tradition with this latest job."

Illuminated glass partitions accent the walls and display the company's logo and slogans in their signature colors. Renewable materials – such as starfire glass, porcelain tile and certified wood products – and energy efficient power and lighting systems incorporating the latest LED technologies were also utilized throughout the space.

"The final product was everything we were looking for and more," said Steve Forrest, founder and president of Forrest Solutions. "The team did a terrific job under difficult circumstances. They went above and beyond to ensure everything finished on time."
